INTRODUCTION

The Catherine Berry Pilcher Avery Papers – Addition span the period 1887-1984, and consist of correspondence, photographs, newspaper clippings, diaries, and other personal papers of Mrs. Avery and her family. Mrs. Avery gave the papers to the Tennessee State Library and Archives in eleven donations from 1971-1984. In 1985, Mr. Wilbur F. Creighton, Jr., donated a tape and a transcript of an interview, which was conducted shortly before her death in 1984, with Mrs. Avery.

The materials in the collection measure approximately 5.5 cubic feet. Further information on Mrs. Avery may be found in the Catherine Berry Pilcher Avery Papers, accession number 71-109, microfilm accession number 1236. Single photocopies of unpublished materials may be made for scholarly use.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The Catherine Berry Pilcher Avery Papers, 1887-1984 – Addition, contain the personal papers of Mrs. Avery as well as some of the papers of her husband, Professor Roy C. Avery. Correspondence, newspaper clippings, photographs and negatives, diaries, and logs are the main components of the addition. Other types of documents found include church bulletins, manuscripts, and drawings.

Correspondence comprises the largest part of the addition. The personal correspondence of Mrs. Avery is here, including letters from Mrs. Avery to her daughter Margaret Avery Ritchie. Letters belonging to Mr. Roy Avery are also located in the addition. Letters belonging to families related to Mrs. Avery are also found with the correspondence. These letters have been sorted by family and placed together within the addition.

Newspaper clippings were originally the largest part of the addition. The clippings cover a wide range of topics. These topics include Nashville history, Tennessee history, Andrew Jackson, historic homes, schools, churches, and the Avery family. The clippings were initially sorted and all duplicate clippings were discarded. Multiple articles on the same topic were then disposed of. The originals were photocopied according to standard archival procedure, and the originals were discarded. The clippings are arranged by topic in the addition.

A large number of photographs are also within the addition. There is a photograph of Mrs. Avery at the age of five, as well as photographs of other family members. Many of the photographs are of members of Mrs. Avery’s extended family. The photographs were photocopied and the copies were placed in the collection. The original photographs have been placed in the vault in accordance with standard archival procedures. There are also twelve negatives of a trip taken by Mrs. Avery in 1915. Mrs. Avery, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt S. Pilcher, Jr., and with her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Dorris, traveled to Chattanooga, Tennessee. The negatives are located in the vault. A separate collection of negatives was also found among the papers. The negatives begin approximately 1908 and continue through 1981. The two separate sets of images (both photographic and negative) do not correspond. The negative collection is numbered N1-N1575 and the photographs are numbered 1-53. The images captured include several trips west, scenes from European vacations, and a myriad of family pictures. The negatives are in the same order in which Mrs. Avery placed them. The negatives have been stored in the vault in accordance with standard archival procedure.

Several diaries are a part of the Catherine Berry Pilcher Avery Papers – Addition. There are two diaries of Mrs. Avery, dating from 1910-1912, in the collection. A diary kept by Roy Avery during World War I offers his perspective on the war. Also found within the collection are a group of diaries of Reverend Joseph Francis Avery, father of Roy C. Avery. These diaries, while not personal, record the subjects of Rev. Avery’s sermons.
Mr. and Mrs. Avery traveled extensively over the course of their marriage, and their motoring logs are a part of the addition. The logs cover the years 1928-1981, and detail the various trips made by Mr. and Mrs. Avery.

There was an extensive postcard collection originally found with the collection. The postcards were not written on, and had been collected from places such as Yellowstone National Park, Mexico, Germany, France, and Tennessee. An album of cards from a variety of places has been retained while the others were discarded. The Tennessee postcards were kept and transferred to the Tennessee Postcard Collection. Photocopies of those postcards are found in the collection.

On February 23, 1984, shortly before the death of Mrs. Avery, Mr. Wilbur F. Creighton, Jr., and Mr. Leland R. Johnson interviewed Mrs. Avery. The interview, which covered some of the family history of Mrs. Avery as well as history of First Presbyterian Church, was taped and a transcript of the tape was included. The tape was taken out of the collection and a copy was made and placed in the vault according to standard archival practice. Due to the poor quality of the original tape, it was discarded. A copy of the taped interview is located in the vault at II-A-1v, Box 1. The transcript may be found within the collection.

Other items of note in the collection include Wayne’s Handbook of Nashville and the Tennessee Centennial Exposition. This handbook offers a fascinating glimpse of Nashville in 1897. It lists certain demographic information, such as population, wealth, and other statistics. It also lists hotels, restaurants, and other amenities found in Nashville at the time and would have been of interest to the general tourist. The book also features descriptions of the various buildings and attractions of the Tennessee Centennial Exposition. There is one other copy of this work in the collection of the library. Also of interest are several examples of artwork done by Mrs. Avery. Mrs. Avery was a commercial artist before her marriage, and several examples of her work are located in the collection. There is also a manuscript in the collection that appears to be about women. The thesis of the manuscript appears to be aimed at men, and covers topics such as love, choosing a worthy mate, and marriage. There is no notation on the manuscript to indicate authorship or date of composition.
