INTRODUCTION

The Hamilton-Williams Family Papers, 1850-1971, occupies .84 cubic feet of shelf space, and numbers approximately 500 items. Single photocopies of unpublished writings in the Hamilton-Williams Family Papers may be made for the purposes of scholarly research.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The Hamilton-Williams Family Papers, containing approximately 500 items, span the period 1850 - 1971. The collection is composed of accounts, certificates, clippings, correspondence, financial documents, general military orders, land records, legal documents and several miscellaneous items.

The collection is basically centered in the Civil War period although there are many deeds for properties owned by the Hamilton and Williams families. The Civil War materials prove to be a fascinating view of the Southern soldier during the war. The Thomas H. Williams diary are an original day-by-day account, perhaps more accurate in factual detail and in emotional response to men and events which have since become matters of controversy than memoirs written after years of reflection.

The wartime experiences of John B. Hamilton and his adopted son, Thomas H. Williams are covered in the correspondence. The letters for both men may be grouped into several time periods. The first part of the correspondence deals with the many letters written by Hamilton from a camp in Kentucky in the first months of the War. There were several letters from Sarah Anne Hamilton and a few from Williams which pertain to toils and perils of civilians. Williams wrote numerous letters from Mississippi in the fall of 1862; these form the basis of the second major portion of the correspondence. A thesis entitled "The Civil War Papers of John Bell Hamilton and Thomas Hamilton Williams " by Alleen Williams Cater, may be consulted in the library section of the Tennessee State Library and Archives.

Taken all together, the letters, diaries and related items are a unique account of the wartime experience, not only of a soldier, but of a whole family. Although the collection may not be complete, it offers a great deal of information on conditions both in the cavalry camp and also on the home front.
BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Thomas Hamilton Williams

1843 August 22, born at Williamsport, Maury county, Tennessee, the son of Dorothy Darby and Edward Williams.

1843 September, Dorothy Williams died and her husband's half-sister Sarah Ann Hamilton and her husband, Rev. John Bell Hamilton, take the child and bring him up as their own.

1861 Williams and his adoptive father enter the service of the Confederacy. Captain Hamilton raised a company of cavalry which became part of the Second Tennessee Battalion, later part of the First Tennessee Regiment. Williams joined Hamilton's Company.

1861-1865 Williams and Hamilton are stationed in Mississippi involved in the retreat from Atlanta and Gen. Joseph Wheeler's raid through Middle Tennessee.

1865-1866 After the War, Williams returned to Columbia, Tennessee, where he took ownership in drugstore with his half-brother William H. Williams. The business was destroyed by fire.

1867 Williams married Annie Caroline White of Spring Hill, Tennessee. They had four children.

___ Began farming on the Hamilton land, buying and increasing the estate.
