Assessments, Property Assessment Files, 1993-2003

RG 430

COLLECTION SUMMARY

Creator:

Tennessee. Division of Property Assessments

Inclusive Dates:

1993-2003

Scope & Content:

Consists of microfiche images of property assessment data for counties across Tennessee. The assessment data occurs two different ways: alphabetical by property owner name (Alpha) and geographical by property parcel number (Geo). The information in this collection includes almost every county in Tennessee except for the major counties of Davidson, Hamilton, Knox, and Shelby. Also, for Unicoi County there are only assessments available for the years 1993-1996. This collection provides very valuable information regarding not only land ownership, but also how parcels were classified, such as commercial, industrial, farm, or residential. This information will assist both genealogical researchers as well as anyone looking for information regarding the history of a specific tract of land.

Administrative/Biographical History

The Division of Property Assessments ensures the effective administration of Tennessee's property tax. The division is responsible for assisting local governments in assessment of property for tax purposes; monitoring statewide reappraisal programs; coordinating the IMPACT Computer Assisted Mass Appraisal System; and producing annual tax billing materials. The division also administers the Assessment Certification and Education Program for assessors and their staff. The Division's Office of Local Government serves as the liaison to the U.S. Census Bureau's Local Redistricting Data Program and assists Tennessee's counties with maintenance of property ownership maps. Additionally, the division administers the Property Tax Relief Program and assists counties and municipalities that have adopted the Property Tax Freeze Program.
